REPORT ON CHILDREN'S DAY CELEBRATION AT SETH MALOOK CHAND INTERNATIONAL SCHOOL

Educational Visit to Teerthdham Mangalayatan, Sasni

On the Occasion of Children's Day

School: Seth Malook Chand International School

Date of Visit: November 14th, 2026

Place Visited: Teerthdham Mangalayatan, Aligarh-Agra Marg, Sasni, Distt. Hathras (U.P.)

Participants: Students of Grade PG to VIII along with their Class Teachers

1. Introduction

On the occasion of Children's Day, our school organised a special celebration combining an educational visit and fun-filled activities. The main purpose was to celebrate the day in a joyful and meaningful way while making students aware of Indian culture, Jain philosophy, and values such as non-violence, truth and peace.

Mangalayatan means "A place that brings happiness and removes sins."

2. Special Children's Day Assembly

The celebration began with a special morning assembly conducted by the teachers to mark the occasion of Children's Day. The assembly created a joyful atmosphere and filled the students with excitement for the day's special activities. After the assembly, students, accompanied by their class teachers, proceeded to Teerthdham Mangalayatan, Sasni, for the educational visit.

3. About the Place

Teerthdham Mangalayatan is a Jain pilgrimage complex developed by Shri Adinath Kund-Kund Kahan Digamber Jain Trust. It is situated on the Aligarh-Agra Highway, about 13 km from Aligarh, and is spread over 16 acres of land. The campus is very clean, green and peaceful.

4. What We Saw and Did

Students visited the five main temples on the campus:

- Bhagwan Adinath Mandir: Built on an artificial hill, with a beautiful white marble statue.
- Bhagwan Mahavir Mandir: Dedicated to Lord Mahavira, the 24th Tirthankara.
- Bhagwan Bahubali Mandir: Dedicated to Bhagwan Bahubali.
- Manastambh: A magnificent 63-feet-tall pillar made of white marble.
- Jinvani Mandir: Dedicated to Jain scriptures and knowledge.

Pooja and Namokar Mantra

In the temple, children offered prayers with great devotion. They collectively recited the sacred Namokar Mantra — "Namo Arihantanam, Namo Siddhanam, Namo Ayariyanam..." — with faith and discipline.

After that, children offered Argh with rice to Bhagwan with folded hands. Teachers explained that Argh is an offering of devotion and gratitude to God, while rice symbolises purity and prosperity. It was a peaceful and spiritual moment for everyone.

Special Attraction – The Cave (Gufa)

Students also visited the famous Dhanya Munidasha Gufa in the campus. It was an exciting and adventurous experience. Inside the cave, students saw beautiful idols and learned how Munis (Jain saints) used to meditate in caves in ancient times.

Fun Time – Swings Area

After the temple visit, students enjoyed themselves in the swings and play area. Everyone played on swings, slides and other rides, clicked photographs with friends and teachers, and celebrated Children's Day with great joy and laughter.

Visit Schedule

Students reached Teerthdham Mangalayatan at approximately 9:55 a.m. and spent a memorable and enriching time exploring the temple complex, participating in prayers and enjoying the activities. After the visit, the group departed for school and returned safely at approximately 11:50 a.m.

Special Celebration at School – Lunch and Movie Show

The celebrations continued after the students returned to school. A special lunch featuring delicious Pav Bhaji was arranged for the children. This was followed by an entertaining movie show, where students enjoyed watching the movie together with their friends. The day concluded with happiness, laughter and wonderful memories.

5. What We Learned

- Jainism teaches Ahimsa (Non-violence), Satya (Truth) and Aparigraha (Non-possession).
- The Namokar Mantra is the most important and sacred mantra in Jainism.
- The importance of peace, cleanliness, discipline and respect for all religions.

6. Conclusion

The Children's Day celebration was a perfect combination of Bhakti, Learning and Fun. From the special morning assembly to the temple visit, Namokar Mantra Jaap, offering Argh with rice, exploring the cave and enjoying the swings, followed by a special Pav Bhaji lunch and movie show at school, every moment was memorable. We sincerely thank our Principal, teachers and the temple management for making this celebration so wonderful and meaningful.
